Erin Gleason Alvarez is an independent arbitrator and mediator based in New York. She began her career as a litigator and then went on to lead the Global Dispute Resolution Program for a leading international financial institution for ten years. Since 2017, Ms. Gleason has served as a full-time arbitrator and mediator in US-domestic, and international, complex commercial disputes. She serves as Adjunct Professor of Law and Director of the Mediation Practicum at the Elisabeth Haub School of Law, Pace University. Ms. Gleason is held in the highest regard by parties for her ability to diffuse volatile situations. She is known for her fair and tenacious approach to her work as a neutral.

Practical Experience

Ms. Gleason serves as tribunal chair, sole arbitrator, wing arbitrator, and emergency arbitrator under AAA, ICDR, CPR Institute Administered and Non-Administered Rules and in ad hoc proceedings. She is a member of the American Arbitration Association Commercial Arbitration Panel, Complex Commercial Disputes Panel, and Insurance Disputes Panel; and the CPR Institute Panel of Distinguished Neutrals. She has been invited to make presentations on her approach to efficiency in arbitration by CPR, ICC, the New York City Bar Association, and New York State Bar Association, among others.

Ms. Gleason serves as mediator in cases under CPR, Resolute Systems mediation rules, along with ad hoc processes and court-appointed cases. In 2022, the Appellate Division of the New York State Supreme Court, First Department, appointed Ms. Gleason to serve as a Special Master for the court. She has been listed as a top mediator by Who's Who Legal: Mediation since 2020. Ms. Gleason received mediator certification through the CPR Institute and chaired CPR's Mediation Committee for four years. She also co-authored and edited Make Mediation Work: In-house Counsel Guide to Mediation, which was published by CPR in 2018. She is the Director of the Mediation Practicum at the Elisabeth Haub School of Law at Pace University.
